President's Message:

Red Sox Win World Series

In a spectacular end to a sensational series, the Boston Red Sox broke "The Curse" and captured their first World Series since 1918, winning a seven game nail biter over the Chicago Cubs.

Nomar Garciaparra, the Series MVP, had three hits off of Kerry Wood and Pedro Martinez shut out the Cubs for seven innings, as the Sox held on to win 3-2. Pandemonium broke out on the streets outside Fenway Park, as jubilant New Englanders came unglued at their first taste of baseball's ultimate trophy in over eighty-five years.

Coupled with the New England Patriots' victory in the 2004 Super Bowl, this surely marks the finest year in the history of Beantown sports (with all due respect to Red Auerbach and the Celtics).

An improbable story? Maybe, but this is Spring, and hope, as they say, "springs eternal." Hope is a powerful emotion. It feeds the gotta believe mentality, and as any underdog will tell you, you can't find victory without the hope and confidence you can do it!

I love this time of year. I'm no big fan of Winter. Spring means opportunity. It means outdoor antique shows, it means our area golf courses are now lush and open, it means no more boots or heavy jackets, it means tee-shirts, shorts and BBQ season.

Wow, there is a lot to be hopeful for. It means the NCC Convention is just around the corner ... just eight weeks away as I write this. And before that, there are plenty of other things to plan for and look forward to. This is a great time for reinvigorating the spirit.

This attitude transformation is a great thing to experience. The truly successful begin planning their "possibilities agenda" ... it's not what you can't do, it's what you can do. It's about setting your next challenge and building the plan to accomplish it.

As glass collectors we have so much to be thankful for and so much to look forward to. How many of you have outdoor flea markets in your area? Although they may not be as target rich as they once were, it is still fun to get up at the crack of dawn and go out in search of the great score. (The getting up at dawn part may not be as much fun as when I was younger, but you never get tired of The Big Score!!!).

We also get to plan for the upcoming Convention season. The Convention spirit helps bond all collectors and helps foster very special relationships.

Our Cambridge Convention will be held June 23rd through 27th. Elsewhere in this issue you'll find the lowdown on what is sure to be another spectacular weekend in Cambridge. If you haven't already made your plans to join us, I hope you will seriously consider it this year. Hotels fill up quickly, so we encourage you to reserve early.

Hope is a powerful motivator. I truly believe it is what has propelled NCC to be in the strong position we are in today. We not only hoped for a new museum, we set the plans to make it happen. We not only hoped to expand our national outreach, loving members around the country made it happen.

It's been said the best luck doesn't just come to you, you make it happen. Organizations can be that way too. You can wish all you want, but without the smart execution of your plans, they are not likely to come true. But the best success does go to the dreamers, the ones who visualize something better and then set their minds to make it happen.

I encourage all of you to help be part of this solution ... be hopeful, have dreams, set plans, be part of the fellowship to help spread education and preservation of Cambridge (and all other) Glass. It is a great accomplishment and very satisfying.

Please start by voting in this year's Board election - we again have an incredible slate of candidates willing to work hard for you. And, register for Convention, come feel the fellowship, hope to find great glass and certainly, meet the good people who are your fellow NCC'ers.

P.S. This column was inspired by my Dad, H.H. "Bud" Jones. Dad was a lifelong Red Sox fan who unfortunately did not get to see his Sox win The Series. My Dad passed away this April 4th but left my brothers and me with a never ending sense of hope, and a desire and commitment to leave this world a better place. For that, and many other reasons, I will be eternally grateful.

The Crystal Ball
extends deepest sympathies to Rick Jones on the recent loss of his father.

Candidates for the Board of Directors:

Cynthia A. Arent

Cindy has served on the NCC Board of Directors for four terms and has been Museum Committee Chairperson for the past five years. As committee chair, with the collaboration and generosity of many, she has helped lead the club's efforts to open a beautiful new museum of Cambridge Glass. Since the opening, Cindy has been heavily involved both in the effort to add to the educational value of the museum and to forge closer bonds between the club and the community. In recognition for her efforts and dedication to the museum project, The Daily Jeffersonian chose Cindy as Cambridge/Guernsey County Person of the Year in 2001.

Cambridge Glass is in Cindy's blood. Literally. Most of Cindy's family worked at The Cambridge Glass Company over a period from 1906 - 1958. Her grandfather worked as an engineer; grandmother - selected door knobs; great aunt - secretary to the CGC treasurer G. Roy Boyd; mother and two aunts - worked in the sample room; and another aunt, Mary Martha Mitchell, was secretary to Arthur J. Bennett

*Shelley Cole

Shelley has become increasingly active in NCC affairs over the past six years. She has started a new study group, created and managed book sales tables at shows around the country, served as Convention Chair for the past two years and is active with the National Depression Glass Association, furthering not only the goals of Cambridge, but of all glass collectors.

Her desire to take an active role in the NCC was sparked at the 1998 NDGA Convention in San Antonio. "Rick Jones was at the convention, spreading the word of the disaster at the museum in Cambridge. I hadn't even been to the museum, but the pictures and stories brought tears to my eyes." Shelley resolved then and there to find a way to help make a difference.

Part of that mission has been taking the NCC story of education and preservation on the road. Shelley and her husband Alex (Editor of the Crystal Ball) helped found the club's first study group in Virginia, the Cambridge Triangles. She has been part of the team transcribing old

William Dufft

Bill became acquainted with Cambridge Glass seven years ago, in the process of searching for cocktail stems to add to a Farber Bros. / Cambridge Tally-ho ice bucket passed down to him from his grandmother. He and his wife Yvonne have developed an extensive collection of Farber Bros. with Cambridge inserts through NCC events, various antique and glass shows throughout the Eastern states, and eBay auctions.

He is an NCC member, and Treasurer of the Elegant Glass Collectors' NCC Study Group. Bill has been responsible for set-up and support of a number of NCC displays at the Eastern National Antiques Show in Harrisburg PA, and the successful Cat's Meow NCC Museum collectible fund-raising project. He provides yearly assistance to the NCC Glass Show dealers during set-up and pack-up, has assisted in facility set-up for the Glass Dash, served as a preview assistant and runner for the NCC March Auction and NCC Convention Auction, assisted in set-up of the NCC Museum for the June 2002 inaugural celebration, and presented a program on Farber Bros. at the 2003 NCC Convention.

Bob Gallagher

Bob Gallagher and his wife Karen are retired Flint, Michigan teachers. They now live in Oscoda, Michigan, on the shores of Lake Huron. Bob would like to serve on the NCC Board. He wants the legacy of Cambridge Glass preserved so future generations can appreciate the skill the numerous employees had in producing quality, hand-made glass. Bob is trying to educate people in the Flint area through a booth he has in an antique mall. He has sold Scotties, passed out literature, information about the flood and the formation of the new museum. He also serves as a reference regarding questions about Cambridge Glass that the mall owners or visitors may have.

Bob was a member of Cindy Arent's museum committee and participated in the discussions resulting in the museum we now have. He suggested that donated Cambridge Glass be sold in a gift shop in the museum, so visitors could have a souvenir of their tour and possibly the beginnings of a Cambridge collection. Bob has been an NCC member and attended all conventions since 1996, and he has attended several quarterly meetings.

Candidates for the Board of Directors:

Freeman Moore

Freeman Moore is seeking election to the NCC board. Freeman is a Michigan native, but adopted the Texas lifestyle nearly 20 years ago. Freeman can offer a different perspective to the board, promoting the national part of NCC. Embracing and extending membership must be an NCC priority. If elected, his main focus would be communicating the benefits of membership to the national audience. This interest has grown recently as Freeman and Jeannie have staffed an NCC table at various shows in the Texas area.

Freeman has been active in the North Texas study group, resurrecting its visibility within NCC. Freeman's grandmother, Laura Loach, worked in the etching department for several years. The Moore's enjoy all kinds of Cambridge glass, with a particular weakness for Rose Point and 80 oz. ball jugs.

During the day, Freeman is manager of engineering training for Raytheon. His PhD in computer science is from the University of North Texas, and he continues to teach on a part-time basis for Southern Methodist University.

Mark Nye

Mark Nye joined NCC, Inc. in 1978 while living in Miami, Florida where he was employed by American Hospital Supply Corp. and then Baxter Healthcare as a Quality Assurance Manager. Soon after joining NCC, Mark became a regular contributor to the Crystal Ball and since then has authored, compiled and edited numerous publications, including Cambridge Stemware, Rose Point, Caprice and his latest, Rock Crystal Engravings.

Since joining NCC, Mark has attended every one of its annual conventions. He was elected to the Board of Directors in 1986 and continued to serve on the Board until 1998. In June 1988, he was elected NCC President, a position he held until 1991. For a number of years Mark served as Chairperson of the annual convention. In 2003 he was awarded Lifetime Member status.

In 2003, Mark was named NCC Archivist and in this position he is responsible for the recently established Bill & Phyllis Smith Research Library, housed in the NCC museum in Cambridge. In addition to cataloging the Smith collection of research materials,

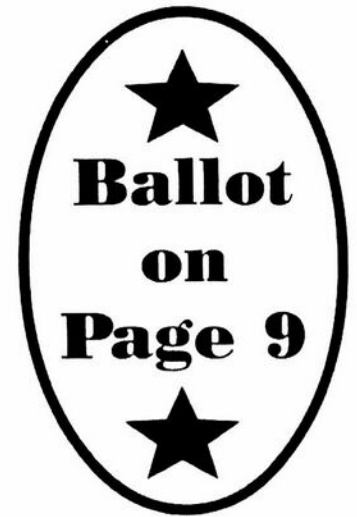

Frank Wollenhaupt

Frank and his wife Vicki have been long time collectors and supporters of Cambridge Glass. They attended the club's first quarterly meeting in September 1973, and have been an active part of the club since. They are members of the Miami Valley Study Group and hold NCC membership numbers 34 and 35.

The Wollenhauts live in Dayton, Ohio, where Frank is the Marketing Manager and also manages the internet site for Weiler Welding Co., Inc.

The focus of their Cambridge collection started with Moonlight Blue Caprice, but has evolved to include all aspects of Cambridge Glass.

Frank was elected to the Board of Directors in 1974 and served for three terms, ending in 1986. During those years, he wrote many articles for The Crystal Ball and presented programs at both quarterly meetings and at the National Convention. He has served in various capacities, including: Sergeant at Arms, member of the Colors Book Committee and chairman of both the publicity & program and entertainment committees.

Crystal Balls for posting on the NCC's website to help bring education to the next generation of collectors.

Bringing her efforts full circle, Shelley served on the Grand Opening Committee for our new Museum. This led to her appointment as Convention Chair, a daunting but fulfilling way to support our mission and spread the joy of collecting.

Being elected to the Board is the next logical step. Having been to virtually every quarterly meeting and Board meeting over the past few years, she is very much in tune with the challenging issues facing the Board. She also proudly sees the need for more women on the Board. "After all, this glass was made for the ladies of a bygone age. Would we have the lovely etchings & colors and delicate patterns if Cambridge had been marketing to men? Of course not! Let's add another woman to the Board to work towards the continued preservation of this wonderful glass!"

Outside the NCC, Shelley is a professional, classically-trained singer. She serves on the Board of Directors of The Charlottesville Vocal Arts Society (Treasurer for past five years) and is Co-Chairman of the Family Selection Committee of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Charlottesville. Shelley was recently nominated (and is running unopposed) to the Board of the National Depression Glass Association (NDGA).

After her varied service to NCC, Shelley is eager to have the chance to take her skills and dedication to the Board of Directors and wants your vote!

and the last president of the company in the re-opened years.

In her time on the Board, Cindy has worked on the NCC Grant Writing Team, chaired the Publicity and Non-Glass committees and has been Vice President. She is a lifelong resident of Cambridge and is a faculty member at the Rolling Hills School District (teaching first grade). She is a graduate of The Ohio State University. This always sets up for interesting discussions during football season with her husband Mike. He is a graduate of Penn State! Cindy and Mike enjoy collecting and sharing knowledge of Cambridge Glass with a primary focus on Crown Tuscan. They reside near Cambridge with their pet beagle, Maggie, and are members of the Cambridge Cordials study group and the First Presbyterian Church. She welcomes the chance to continue to serve the membership of NCC!

Bob would like to explore the idea of having some kind of convention/glass show in the western US. Not everyone can come to Cambridge.

Bob and Karen appreciate the friendship and willingness of members to share knowledge of Cambridge Glass. He would like to continue the forward momentum of the NCC. He wants to assist the organization's growth and development, especially in the areas of education and preservation of Cambridge Glass Company records.

He is currently project chairman for the 2004 NCC Convention Silent Auction. Bill indicated that election to the NCC Board represents a step forward in his support of NCC, and would bring to the organization his enthusiasm, creativity, and involvement in shaping an NCC for the future.

Convention Corner

by Shelley Cole, Convention Chairman

Our editor tells me space is at a premium this month, so I'm not going to take up much here. The Schedule of Events on page 15 and the Registration Form on page 13 pretty much tell the story.

One exciting item we've added to the convention schedule is the viewing of a video made before the Cambridge Factory was demolished. Bill Smith, one of the early members of NCC gives a tour of the factory. For those of us who never saw it (and for those of us who did), this should be a very enlightening video. It will be shown Thursday afternoon in the new education center at the museum. Thanks to Cindy Arent for rediscovering this precious item!

We've added a few more items to the President's Challenge list for the Silent Auction at Convention. We'd love to add more pieces. For more information on the Challenge, see the ad on page 7.

I hope you are all planning to attend this year's convention! I'm looking forward to making up lots and lots of convention packets!! If you have any questions, or can lend a hand convention weekend, please contact me at slunicorn@aol.com or (434) 296-2531. See you in June!

Museum Update

The museum has been open for a month now, and we're hoping that this year will be even better than 2003. There have been many visitors already including one from Berlin, Germany who thought that Cambridge Glass was "Beautiful". There are several changes this year in addition to the feature display rooms.

The Edna McManus Education Center is still a work in progress. The displays are in place, but many details still need to be added.

The museum gift shop is a bit larger this year.

Several different types of recognizable molds have been moved to the Education Center from the storage building.

The collection of reproduction pieces has been placed in the beautiful, new showcases.

In short, there's so much happening already at our museum. Next month's Crystal Ball will contain more detail on all of these projects and more.

If you come to Convention, or are just visiting Cambridge, be sure to stop by the National Museum of Cambridge Glass.

Thank You... Century Club Donors for 2003

by Sharon Miller, Grants & Fundraising

On behalf of the board of the National Cambridge Collectors, Inc., I wish to thank all of you who made donations to the Century Club initiative in 2003.

Many members renewed their Century Club membership, while others contributed for the first time. As indicated, the $16,000 will be split 2/3 to the roof replacement fund and 1/3 to the Endowment fund. WE ARE ONLY $7,000 AWAY FROM HAVING THE $32,000 NEEDED TO REPLACE THE MUSEUM ROOF WHICH IS SCHEDULED FOR JULY 2004.

At the March board meeting, it was decided to target the 2004 Century Club Funds in the same manner as 2003. Century Club letters will be mailed to the membership very soon. We already have over $1,000 in donations to the Century Club 2004. Please consider giving your support to the Century Club and the museum in 2004. Thanks again to all who donated to the Century Club in the initial two years of this initiative.

The members of the Century Club for 2003 are listed here; many thanks to all of you!

Mark is also handling the furnishing of the room as well. Mark retired from the healthcare industry in 1991 and moved to Brooklyn Michigan in 1992. There, in 1995, he began a second career as a florist. Retirement again beckoned and in 2000 Mark closed the flower shop. He now resides in Jackson, Michigan and in addition to his activities for NCC, is actively involved in the management of the condominium building in which he resides.
